

Reimagining Humanitarianism in the Age of Global Solidarity:

Interrogating power structures in aid and multilateral institutions

Eric Damien, Youth Climate Activist, Fridays for Future Kenya & International Affairs Coordinator, Kenya Environmental Action Network \(KEAN\)

Eric Damien is a youth climate activist from Fridays for future Kenya, MAPA and the international community. Having faced and experienced the impacts of the climate crisis in his local community he took it upon himself to hold world leaders accountable and push them to take radical climate action while also supporting climate adaptation efforts. He works alongside other youth climate activists from all over the world in mobilising people to take part in strikes and educate their communities on climate change. Eric is also the international affairs coordinator at KEAN where he works to facilitate meaningful engagement with Youth climate activists in Kenya with international organisations.

Listen to Eric discuss what global solidarity means for him and his work at the Climate Crisis session from 3.15 – 4.15pm (GMT+1) on Thursday 8 July.

REIMAGINING HUMANITARIANISM IN THE AGE OF GLOBAL SOLIDARITY

THURSDAY 8 JULY, 12 - 5.30PM

dóchas

NUI Galway

IRISH RESEARCH COUNCIL
An Chomhairle um Thaighde in Éirinn